

Call for Submissions

Dark Highlands Anthology is currently accepting submissions for its debut publication, Volume 1 (October 2010). Dark Highlands Anthology is a professional, semi-annual collection of artwork, poetry, and short fiction in the subject areas of horror, dark fantasy, and the supernatural. All are welcome to submit, but preference is given to submissions from the Iowa-Illinois region. Our goal is to provide regional artists and writers with compensation for their quality published works. We use 100% of submission fees and advertising revenues to pay for content and printing. The editorial staff receives no salary from the Anthology and contributes 25% of book sales profits to local visual, literary, and performing arts organizations.

Deadline: 15 July 2010 for Volume 1 (October 2010)

Artwork – 1st Prize = $50 and placement on cover. Runners up = $25 each.

Single-Panel Comics – $25 flat fee and publication.

Poetry – 1st Prize = $25. Runners up = $10 each.

Theme for Volume 1: Haiku

Short Fiction – 1st Prize = $50. Runners up = $25 each.

There is a $5 submission fee for all works (up to 3 poems per poetry submission).

Consult www.darkhighlands.com for specific submission guidelines.